SIDDHI MEMORIAL FOUNDATION (SMF)

Siddhi Memorial Foundation (SMF) in Bhaktapur, Nepal is a registered non-governmental and not-for-profit organization dedicated to delivering vital healthcare services at an affordable cost through its hospital for women and children, its senior citizens' home and its educational programs for community children.

HISTORY

On October 8th, 1993, four and a half year old Siddhi Sundar Dhaubhadel was struck by a jeep on his way home from kindergarten at Suryabinayak, Bhaktapur. The nearest hospital capable of treating Siddhi's injuries was located 15 km away in Kathmandu. Tragically, Siddhi passed away en route to the hospital.

On October 22nd 1993, in memory of their son, Siddhi's parents, Shyam Sundar and Ranjana Dhaubhadel, established the Siddhi Memorial Health Service Centre in the heart of Bhaktapur at Barahi Peeth, which provided basic healthcare services to marginalized women and children. The success of this small clinic inspired them to establish Siddhi Memorial Hospital (SMH) in 1997 at Bhimsensthan, Bhaktapur. Since then with generous support from friends, well-wishers, national and international supporters, the hospital has added numerous, previously unavailable, health services to the area. A few years later the founders decided to add services for elderly people who are a rapidly expanding segment of our population and important members of our society. With the goal of serving the complete human life cycle from childhood to old age, SMF established the Siddhi Shaligram Senior Citizens' Home (SSSCH) in Oct. 2005.

Approaches

- Provides quality health services to children, women and elderly through community based SM Hospital
- Provides residential and daycare services to elders at SSSCH, a home away from home
- Carries out research on the health of women and children in the community
- Promotes health education through establishing an institution of health science
- Provides mobile outreach health services to unreached people in need
- Works together with likeminded organizations & stakeholders to create community development programs

Core Values

Quality services: We always ensure quality services to our patients through proper initial care with regular monitoring and supervision.

Participation: We seek to coordinate and network with relevant organizations at different levels in order to better meet healthcare needs.

Good governance: We focus on adopting, practicing and promoting principles of good governance in all our work that will demonstrate accountability, transparency and quality of response to the people we serve.

Reaching the unreached: We seek to create outreach programs and provide access to the unreached people in the areas of health and elderly care.

SIDDHI MEMORIAL HOSPITAL (FOR WOMEN & CHILDREN) (SMH)

Since its establishment in 1997, the Siddhi Memorial Hospital has been committed to offering quality, accessible healthcare services for women & children. It started with 10 inpatient beds for children. It gradually expended to the current 50 beds. The hospital now offers emergency, NICU/PICU, dental, inpatient and outpatient services to children. It also provides inpatient and outpatient services for women, including gynaecological and operation theater services, plus birthing center and family planning. Furthermore, diagnostic services such as laboratory, x-ray and ultrasound imaging are available. The hospital provides daily services to about 100 children and women in the out-patient department and another 30 children in the emergency ward.
